Manufacturer's bond will be issued for the sum of $15.00 for the 3 piles of felt as listed above for a period of 15 years, or for the four piles of felt as so listed for a period of 20 years.

If the top surface is mopped instead of being poured and gravel excluded, deduct from the above prices, the sum of $25.00. If rag felt and asphalt is used, bond limit would be ten years. The charge would be the minimum which is $15.00.

J. D. Seiler also appeared to discussed the bid from the J. D. Seiler Roofing Company. Said bid, which is revised from former ones, is as follows:

#1 We shall furnish and apply 4-15# tarred felts, properly mopped to the surface, mopped between each and every felt with top felt completely covered with tar pitch poured from a dipper in uniform thickness, for the sum of $107.76. While the pitch is hot, we shall imbed Joplin chat for the sum of $12.00. If chat is not used, we shall mop the top surface.

#2 We shall furnish and apply 2-15# asphalt felts and 2-30# cap-sheets per square, properly mopped for $103.48.

#3 We shall furnish and apply 4-15# asphalt felts top-mopped with hot asphalt for the sum of $99.00.

(The bond on the above would cost $15.00)

Dolph Simons from the Journal-World spent a few minutes with the Board discussing the official county printing for the balance of this year. When asked if he would approve of a plan whereby all papers in the county may share in the printing i. e. two papers have the contract for one year then the remaining two have it for next year, each paper changing its own rate, he replied that he wouldn't recommend anything like this, this year.

After further discussion of the printing bids as opened on February 19, Ed Johnson moved that the Journal World be awarded the contract for the official county printing from March 1, 1941 to December 31, 1941, at their bid price of 78¢ per sq. for first insertions and 39¢ per sq. for succeeding insertions. L. H. Griffith seconded the motion. On roll call, votes were as follows:
