

W. C. Beardsley in the City of Auburn, New York, and in and by said promissory note it is agreed that if default be made in the payment of any interest coupon at maturity, then the said principal sum of Eight Hundred Dollars with all the interest thereon, shall immediately become due and payable.

Now, if the said parties of the first part shall well and truly pay, or cause to be paid the said sum of money in said note mentioned with the interest thereon, according to the tenor and effect of said note, then these presents shall be null and void. But if said sum of money, or any interest thereon, is not paid when the same is due and payable, or if any taxes or assessments, levied against said property are not paid when same are due and payable, then, in either of these cases the whole of said sum mentioned in said note, together with the interest thereon, shall, and by this indenture does immediately become due and payable at the option of the party of the second part or his assignee, to be at any time thereafter exercised without notice to the parties of the first part; but the legal holder of this mortgage may at his option pay or cause to be paid the said taxes and assessments so due and payable, and charge them against the said parties of the first part; and the the amounts so ~~will~~ charged shall be an additional liens upon the said mortgaged property, and may be enforced and collected in the same manner as the principal debt hereby secured together with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum, payable annually, until fully paid and discharged; but whether the party of the second part elect to pay such taxes and assessments or not, it is distinctly understood that in all cases of delinquency as above enumerated, then in like manner, the said note and the whole of the said sum shall
