Colony Trust Company and Charles J. Hubbard all and singular the real and personal estate therein called the trust premises. To have and to hold the said trust premises unto and to the use of the said Old Colony Trust Company and Charles J. Hubbard and their respective successors heirs and assigns upon the trusts and with and subject to the powers and provisions contained in the principal indenture in the said supplemental indenture referred to except so far as the same or any of them are modified by the provisions hereof. 2. The expression "the trustee"

Term Trustee Construed

in the said principal indenture shall extend to and include the trustees or trustee for the time being of the same and of these presents. And all the powers and trusts vested in the trustees by virtue thereof may be executed by the said Old Colony Trust Company or by any trust company that shall hereafter be such trustee as well as by both trustees. And the bonds specified in the said principal indenture shall be certified as therein provided by the said Old Colony Trust Company or such other trust company and the sinking funds provided for in the principal indenture shall be paid to and held and invested by the said Old Colony Trust Company. 3. The trustees shall be answerable only for their own several acts receipts neglects and defaults respectively and not for those of the other or of any succeeding trustee or trustees. 4. The said Old Colony Trust Company and any successor to it may at any time in its discretion and shall at the request in writing of the holders of a majority of the bonds issued under and secured by the principal indenture resign the trusts created by the principal indenture or by these presents by filing its resignation in any court having jurisdiction and publishing notice thereof once a week for three successive weeks in two newspapers one published in the said city of Boston Massachusetts and one in the said City of Kansas City Missouri and such resignation shall take effect upon the appointment of a new trustee which shall always be an incorporated trust company and may be appointed by the said court or any court having jurisdiction upon application of the retiring trustee the continuing trustee or any of the bondholders. And the said Charles J. Hubbard or his successor may at any time in his discretion and shall at the request in writing of the holders of a majority of the bonds issued under and secured by the principal indenture or at the request in writing of the said Old Colony Trust Company or its successor as trustee signed by its president vice-president or other officer resign the said trusts by handing his resignation to the said Old Colony Trust Company or its successor and in case the said Charles J. Hubbard or his successor shall resign die become insolvent or bankrupt or be unable to act by reason of insanity absence or other cause or shall cease to be a citizen of the State of Missouri the said Old Colony Trust Company or its successor may appoint some other suitable person persons or trust company to accept the trusts so resigned and the trust premises specified in the principal indenture and in these presents shall always without further act or deed vest in every succeeding trustee appointed as hereinbefore provided as fully and effectually as if every such trustee had been a party to the principal

Trustees Indemnity

Resignation of trustees